

FEARFUL BIG STRIKE, PENNA. IS ENLISTING

Railroad Asks Employees to Volunteer for Service if Trouble Comes.

FRANKLY OUTLINES ISSUE

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—The Pennsylvania Railroad has already begun a campaign of propaganda against the possibility of a general strike of the engineers, freight conductors and switchmen. S. C. Long, general manager, has issued an appeal to the employees of the company asking them to remain loyal and calling for volunteers to man the engines and to act in other capacities in case of need.

Mr. Long, after calling the attention of the men to the fact that a strike of the men is being taken, says that the 15,000 employees of the company only 15,000 are concerned in the movement and that therefore this number is able to jeopardize the livelihood of the 121,000 men who are not acting with them.

He continues: "The strike is carried on your company will require engineers, firemen, conductors, passenger and freight brakemen."

"The management calls the attention of the faithful employees to the necessity that may arise to meet such emergency."

"These of you who feel and believe with the management that the traffic of the company must move regardless of any wage controversy and who are willing to volunteer their services to assist in the doing of its duty, Anna, hold them and receive the same protection that has always been afforded during crises of this nature."

The railroad brotherhood leaders and their advisers, who had been in the city since June 1, were leaving town yesterday.

Women's aid asked in strike. The railroad managers are now in town for a meeting to-morrow.

Garment Workers Make a National Appeal to Housewives.

Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the cloakmakers' union, yesterday issued an appeal to women in all cities to keep a sharp lookout against the manufacture of cloak samples in tenement houses. Schlesinger said the union was exerting its best efforts to keep the cloak sample makers out of the tenement houses. He said that the union was successful in getting the men out of the cloak sample makers in tenement houses. He said that the union was successful in getting the men out of the cloak sample makers in tenement houses.

It was announced that legal steps will be taken against the proprietors of all tenement houses allowing the manufacture of cloak samples in their tenements. It was also said that 20,000 pickets will be on duty to-morrow.

DOCTOR ACCUSES PATIENTS.

Blackmail, He Says—Police Decide to Arrest All in Tangle.

With his head swathed in bandages and leaning heavily on a cane, Dr. Abram Newler, of 129 Pacific avenue, Jersey City, climbed out of his automobile and walked into the Communipaw avenue police station early yesterday to tell of a thrilling experience he had with patients. He said that he went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Friedman, at 211 Woodward street, in response to a call. He had been attending the family for four years.

Soon after he arrived in the house, Dr. Newler said, he was locked in a room and Friedman and his wife demanded that he give them $1,000 and return all fees they had paid to him. When he declined, he said, Mrs. Friedman threatened to call the police. He said that he was then released and returned to his home.

Friedman was placed under arrest. His wife and Mrs. Friedman were also taken into custody. Friedman accused Dr. Newler of misconduct. The doctor denied this, but said that he was arrested on a serious charge. Mrs. Friedman was held on a charge of assault, her husband for assault and attempted blackmail, and Mrs. Friedman for assault and battery.

RICH RECLUSE FOUND DEAD.

William Peters of New Brunswick Stricken in Office Building.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 17.—William A. Peters, an eighty-year-old recluse who had lived for twenty years in a room in an office building which he owned in the city, was found dead today in the entrance to the building. Heart disease was the cause.

Although he was worth about $250,000, as shown by his bank books and other papers found, he did all his own cooking and caring for his room. Nobody was ever allowed in the place.

He was a religious enthusiast and he wrote many books and pamphlets which he had printed at his own expense, and he distributed them free of charge.

He was eccentric in his dress. He wore long, flowing hair, which was jet black, despite his age, and he cut it himself. He had no relatives except a daughter in Brooklyn and a sister in Kentucky, but neither had been heard from for twenty years. It is understood that he left all his property to the First Methodist Episcopal Church of this city.

THEFT ROBS GIRLS OF DINNER.

Hostess Can't Spend Returned Money—Held as Evidence.

Miss Norma Gray of 233 West Fifty-fifth street was talking to Miss Helen Armstrong of 110 West Eighty-second street in front of the Hotel Claridge, Broadway and Forty-fourth street, last evening, somebody opened a door and a purse containing $10.23 was stolen. A young man describing himself as Joseph Snyder, 19, a printer, of 635 East Eleventh street, was caught by Policeman Suhr in Forty-third street after a lively chase.

In the excitement Miss Gray's purse with the money intact was pushed in her hand by a person who said he found it in the gutter.

Snyder was held at the West Forty-seventh street station on a charge of grand larceny. The money was held as evidence and Miss Gray had to begow her car to home. She also had to call on an invitation to Miss Armstrong to have dinner with her at the Claridge.

MRS. VANDERBILT HELPS SERBIANS AT ALLIED FAIR

Sends Check for $500 for Red Cross Nurse Who Will Soon Go Back to War Zone—Scots Will Have Honors at Bazaar To-day.

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Sr., sent a check for $500 yesterday to Miss Dressler, who is acting as salesgirl in the Serbian booth at the Allied Bazaar. Mrs. Vanderbilt visited the bazaar late last week for the first time since her recent illness and became very much interested in the Serbian booth. The check is made out to Miss Sylvia Eden, the Red Cross nurse, who has worked in Serbia. Miss Eden will leave on July 7 to do service in that country again among the wounded and the refugees.

Miss Eden and Marie Dressler drew the crowds last night to the Serbian booth, which has attracted much more than the other booths. The women who are looking after it are too timid to make people buy. Miss Dressler, as she said over the counter yesterday, is not timid, at least when it comes to begging for the Allies, and she did a "tripping business."

At ten o'clock she took off her apron and went up to the B. F. B. tea room, where she and Maurice danced the tango together. Marie and Maurice are dancing partners have quite a different effect from that of the other couples. The popularity contest in the tea room is keeping the waitresses on tiptoe. Miss Frances Fairchild has the most votes to date—72. One man cast 100 votes for her last night. But Miss Lois Meredith is a close second. Master A. Russell Thompson, a boy singer, was one of the attractions at the tea garden yesterday.

Today will be Scottish Day, and at 4 o'clock and again at 10 the Royal Scottish Quartet will sing. Sergeant Major Middleton of the King's Scots will tell how he lost his sight in battle.

Among the awards yesterday were a Grant Six motor car to A. Zeal, 149 Broadway; a twenty frame gold piece, to James Frank, 709 West 17th street; an antique necklace, to Mme. Paula, 23 West Fifty-seventh street, and an Edison diamond disc phonograph, to A. Kainfield.

Sergeant Edward Golden, aged 16, of the junior police force, reported several thefts at the bazaar, one of a $100 necklace.

For the first time since the bazaar began Miss Dressler didn't appear at the bazaar.

GARBAGE WAR CAUSE TUG RAMS CROWDED BOAT IN HELL GATE

Richmond Borough President and Other Residents Made Defendants.

NO BLUFF, SAY LAWYERS PANIC ON LARGER CRAFT

President Van Name of Richmond Borough, William R. Wilcox, president of the Board of Education; Edward P. Doyle, commander of "Doyle's army," and other residents of Staten Island were sued in the Supreme Court in Manhattan yesterday for $300,000 damages by the Metropolitan Hy-Products Company, the name under which the contracting firm of Gaffney, Gahagan & Van Elten has taken over the contract for erecting a garbage disposal plant on Staten Island, for injuries sustained to date through the active opposition of the defendants to the beginning of work on the plaintiff's contract.

The other defendants named are Roger Doyle, William Will, M. E. C. Bridgman, William J. McDermott, Robert T. Cone, Louis Huger, Dr. Lewis A. Dreyfus, Edward W. Brown, and P. Merrell, George W. Cole and Anning S. Frail. A summons in the case was filed in the office of County Clerk Schuchman yesterday afternoon for the plaintiff. In explaining the suit Frederick T. Kelsey said:

"This action is not a bluff. Through the trustees and delays caused by certain Staten Island people our clients have suffered an actual money damage of $300,000 and somebody has got to pay the bill. We charge that these defendants have conspired to interfere with the rights of our clients in executing a lawful contract with the city of New York."

Attorney Quotes the Law.

"The law holds that a contract right is a property right and that malicious interference to carry out a contract is an interference against the exercise of property right and is actionable under the law in the terms of money damage."

"Our clients are in duty bound under the contract with the city to erect a garbage disposal plant on a plot of ground designated by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and to which they hold title. Their rights on this property have been molested by overt acts and threatened violence of a criminal character."

"The contractors have applied to the Building Department in Richmond Borough for permits to construct buildings according to the terms of their contract with the city. These permits have been deliberately held up and every obstruction possible has been put in their way by the defendants. The defendants have been acting in violation of the law in the terms of money damage."

"At the outset the contractors explained to the people of Staten Island and brought ample proof to their aid in the form of affidavits and statements by responsible engineers, sanitary experts and city officials, including the president of the Board of Health and the Commissioner of Street Cleaning of this city that the process which they would use is absolutely sanitary and free of odors or nuisance of any kind."

City's Plans Defied.

"In the face of these proofs a few men on Staten Island have instituted a crusade in defiance of the plans of the city and of the law in attempting to prevent the contractors from exercising their lawful rights. These men have also injured the clients in likening their procedure to the antiquated system of Harbison Island, an acknowledged and notorious public nuisance. They have also injured our clients in creating an impression that the title held by the contractors is not good. It is an absolute and unquestioned fact that the title is good and that the title is paid for in full, and wholly guaranteed by a policy issued by the Title Guaranty and Trust Company."

Further complications were injected into the situation yesterday afternoon when Police Commissioner Woods directed Edward T. Doyle to remove the barge Astorland from the beach of the Roosevelt Brick Company, where it has been since the police towed it from Lake Island. Doyle immediately obtained a Sunday working permit and says that today he will remove the barge to Lake Island, the war center. That is going to make trouble for his adversary, the police said, as his adversary that property will be a declaration of war.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN PARADE.

More than 1,500 John in Washington Heights Celebration.

More than 1,200 Sunday school scholars of the Washington Heights district and 200 Sunday school officials joined in an anniversary celebration yesterday in spite of the rain. All the churches of the district except the Catholic and Episcopal entered the parade. The line of march was along Broadway, from 171st to 181st streets, when the scholars then marched to their Sunday schools, where ice cream and cake was supplied, after the manner of the recent Brooklyn celebration.

The schools that joined were the Fort Washington Presbyterian Church, the Fort Washington Reformed Church, the Fort Washington Baptist Church, the Chelsea Methodist, Lutheran Church of Our Saviour and the Second United Presbyterian Church.

HELD ON BRIBERY CHARGE.

Inspector in Commissioner Wallstein's Office Accused.

William H. Doyle, 935 Utica avenue, an inspector in the office of Commissioner of Accounts Wallstein, yesterday was held for the Grand Jury until June 27 in the custody of his counsel on a charge of bribery. He was charged with receiving $100 in marked bills from Philip Straus on June 7 as a bribe to see the District Attorney and the Justice in a case in which Straus was protesting his suspension from the office of butcher for violation of the sanitary code.

Doyle stated that he had taken the money with the full knowledge of his superiors. He said that he was for the purpose of securing additional evidence for the prosecution of the butchers. Representatives from Commissioner Wallstein's office corroborated this statement and requested Doyle's discharge.

FIGHT STARTED ON A FILM.

District Attorney Lewis Moves to Bar "Where Are My Children?"

District Attorney Lewis in Brooklyn has started a warfare on the moving picture film "Where Are My Children?" and on his motion picture yesterday issued summonses, returnable on Tuesday, for Harry Dainsborg, president of the Universal Film Exchange, and Robert Robinson, who the picture has been exhibited for a week.

The District Attorney said that he had not seen the picture and that he had been told that it should not be exhibited. He declared that he was strongly opposed to such pictures and would exert the powers of his office to shut them out of Brooklyn.

NEW FIGHT ON CAMPBELL WILL.

Three Grandchildren File Suit in $100,000,000 Case.

St. Louis, June 17.—Suit to contest the will of the late James Campbell, banker, who died in Greenwich, Conn., June 12, 1914, was filed in the circuit court today by Mrs. Minnie Jones Taylor, Mrs. Lou Davis Jenkins and Miss Eva B. Jones, granddaughters of Mr. Campbell, all of whom live in Wheeling, W. Va.

This is the second suit to contest the Campbell will, which disposes of an estate valued at $100,000,000. The first, filed by Mrs. Rosa V. Curtis, a sister, and other relatives, resulted in a judgment for the defense after a sensational two weeks' trial, in which the contestants vainly tried to prove that Mrs. Louis Ann Campbell Burkham was not Campbell's daughter.

The same contention is made in the suit filed today. It also charges that the witnesses to the will were not disinterested parties, but of the family of the Campbell family, trustee under the will. It is alleged that Campbell was unduly influenced by priests, his wife providing that the estate eventually should go to Louis University, a Catholic institution.

CANDY CO. HEAD INDICTED.

Secretary of Defunct Concern Arraigned on Charge of Larceny.

One of the first indictments against officials of the defunct American Candy Company, to which more than $300,000 was subscribed and in which the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, was a member, was presented yesterday by William F. Grinther of 112 Dean street, Brooklyn, formerly secretary of the defunct company, was arraigned before Judge Humphrey in the Queens County Court on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree. It is alleged Grinther sold property belonging to the company and kept the money. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $1,000 bail.

Ever since the company went into bankruptcy about a year ago an unsuccessful search has been made to satisfy the holders of the company's bonds. Several months ago the plan of the company, which was located in the Ravenswood section of Long Island City, was sold under foreclosure proceedings to satisfy a mortgage of $25,000 and only brought a total of $45,000.

"JO" DAVIS LOVED ORPET, SAYS CHUM

Florence Russell Declares Defendant's Witness Was Rival of Marian Lambert.

LATTER NOT DESPONDENT

Waukegan, Ill., June 17.—"Josephine Davis loved Will Orpet. She kept up a friendship with Marian Lambert partly so she could see him."

This was the testimony today of "Florence Russell," a member of the "Eighteen Bunch," school girl chums of Marian Lambert, concerning the attitude of friend and testified in favor of Will Orpet, accused of Miss Lambert's murder.

In his relentless attack on "Jo" Davis's testimony that Marian cried at her birth, Orpet's testimony was that she did not cry at her birth. The other two girls, Attorney Dady put witness after witness on the stand today. He asked each of the witnesses declared they never saw Marian in a despondent mood. The only drawback to their testimony was that one of them would say she was as intimate with Marian as Josephine had been.

Frances Bishop, Christine Smith, myself and Marian went to a Christian Endeavor meeting at Lake Forest that Sunday night after the other girls had left the party. Miss Russell said she slept in another room. Marian and I talked in general about things. She talked of going to college and of her plans for the summer.

"She hoped that we could room together in college. When our talk drifted to Will Orpet, she spoke of his temper. He loses his temper—I like to see him in that mood," she said. "Jo Davis likes him, but I don't care. I guess that's why Jo comes to my house so often."

Miss Mary Marshall, daughter of William Marshall, the Oswego golf professional, testified concerning a secret meeting between Marian and Orpet in Lake Forest, and added that the secret of the Orpet case should stay with her parents' knowledge. The State is hoping to prove that Orpet did likewise on the night the girl died.

She said that Will was coming down on Wednesday night from Madison. She asked how she could get out of serving at the school luncheon that day. Miss Minnie Ramsey, Marian's Sunday school teacher at the First Presbyterian Church of Lake Forest, said Marian was always happy. She was intimately acquainted with Marian for the last three years and never once saw her other than happy.

Marian's friends characterized her mood as "usually light spirited," "always light hearted," "very happy," "always giggling and laughing."

TAKES 60 GRAINS OF POISON.

Young Cuban Lost $645 He Took From Father-in-law.

Louis J. Garriga, 25 years old, a Cuban, was taken yesterday afternoon to Bellevue Hospital suffering from bilious colic and nervousness. He said he had swallowed eight tablets, or sixty grains, of poison in all at the Hotel Wallick, Broadway and Forty-third street.

Garriga left several letters, one of which was addressed "to the policeman and chief," explaining that he was a dependent because he had stolen $645 from his father-in-law, Felix Vazquez, chief of the immigration bureau at Santiago, Cuba. He wrote that he arrived here a week ago last Wednesday and on the following day lost the money in a taxi cab. He asked that he be held, saying he did not want his body cut up.

Physicians said last night the young man's condition is critical.

Supreme Court Justice Shearn signed a final decree of divorce yesterday for the Princess Bhagatichoff, daughter of the late Mr. Partridge of Chicago, from Prince Nicholas Engaltchoff, formerly Russian Consul in Chicago. The Princess is ill in St. Luke's Hospital and her husband is now in France.

James C. Danillo of 572 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, was cut and bruised on his legs. Charles Gardner of Rodney street and William McAnaney of Ross street, both of Brooklyn, were badly shaken up.

Among the excursionists were Jacob A. Livingston, chairman of the Kings county Republican committee; Senator Charles C. Lockwood, James Shaw of the Kings County Republican Club, George A. Goldsmith, a Kings county Republican committee; ex-Representative William M. Calder, Alderman John S. Gaynor, Floyd Adams, clerk of the Gates avenue police court and president of the Congress Club; William A.
